It should be noted, however, that the Interview Summary Form witl not normally be considered a complete and proper recordation of the interview unless it includes, or is supplemented by the applicant or the examiner to include, all of the applicable items required below concerning the substance of the interview:

A complete and proper recordation of the substance of any interview should include at least the following applicable items:

- 1) A brief description of the nature of any exhibit shown or any demonstration conducted,
- 2) an identification of the claims discussed,

3) an identification of specific prior art discussed an interview of the control of the principal proposed amendments of a substantive nature discussed, unless these are already described on the interview Summary Form completed by the examiner.

5) a brief identification of the general thrust of the principal arguments presented to the examiner. The identification of arguments need not be lengthy of DENS elaborate. A verbatim or highly detailed description of the arguments is not required. The identification of the arguments is sufficient if the general nature or thrust of the principal arguments made to the examiner can be understood in the context of the application file. Of course; the applicant may desire to emphasize and fully describe those arguments which he feels were or might be persuasive to the examiner,

(6) a general indication of any other pertinent matters discussed, and (1) A Common of Section of Secti

Examiners are expected to carefully review the applicant's record of the substance of an interview. If the record is not complete or accurate the examiner will give the applicant one month from the date of the notifying letter or the remainder of any period for response, whichever is longer, to complete the response and thereby avoid abandonment; of the application; (37 CFR-d; (35(c))) is noted as the first of the state of the s

Applicant's summary of what took place at the interview should be carefully checked to determine the accuracy of any argument or statement attributed to the examiner during the interview. If there is an inaccuracy and it bears directly on the question of patentability, it should be pointed out in the next Office letter. If the claims are allowable for other reasons of record, the examiner should send a letter setting forth his or her version of the statement attributed to him. If the record is complete and accurate, the examiner should place the indication "interview record OK" on the paper recording the substance of the interview along with the date and the examiner's initials.
